

Agricultural Education

Youth, ages 5 to 8 Hands-on In the Barn

Walking through the livestock barns is an educational opportunity. Youth exhibitors not only have their show animals for visitors to see, they also share lots of educational information through posters. The barn between the cattle and the small animals will host hands-on ag education focused on youth 5-8 years old in addition to offering educational opportunities for all ages. Several stations are being planned to include chickens, maple production, a corn box, pumpkins, a riding corral, and more!

Supervision will be the responsibility of all parents and adults visiting the building. This is planned to be a fun, educational space, but will need the assistance from all to keep it tidy, safe, and a great learning experience.
